Profile

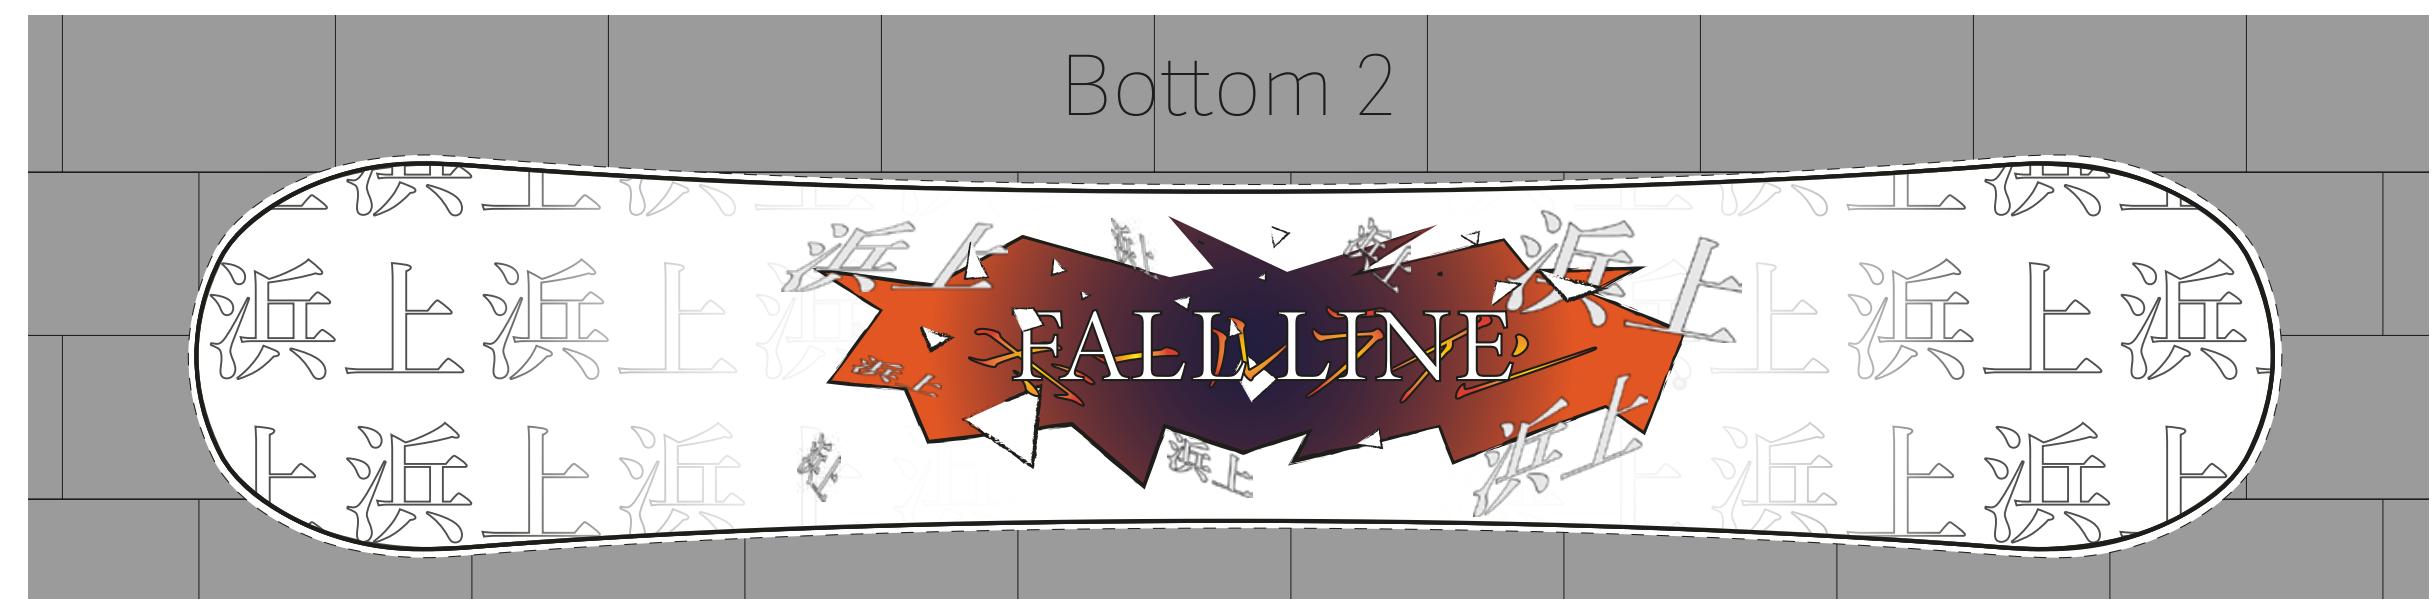

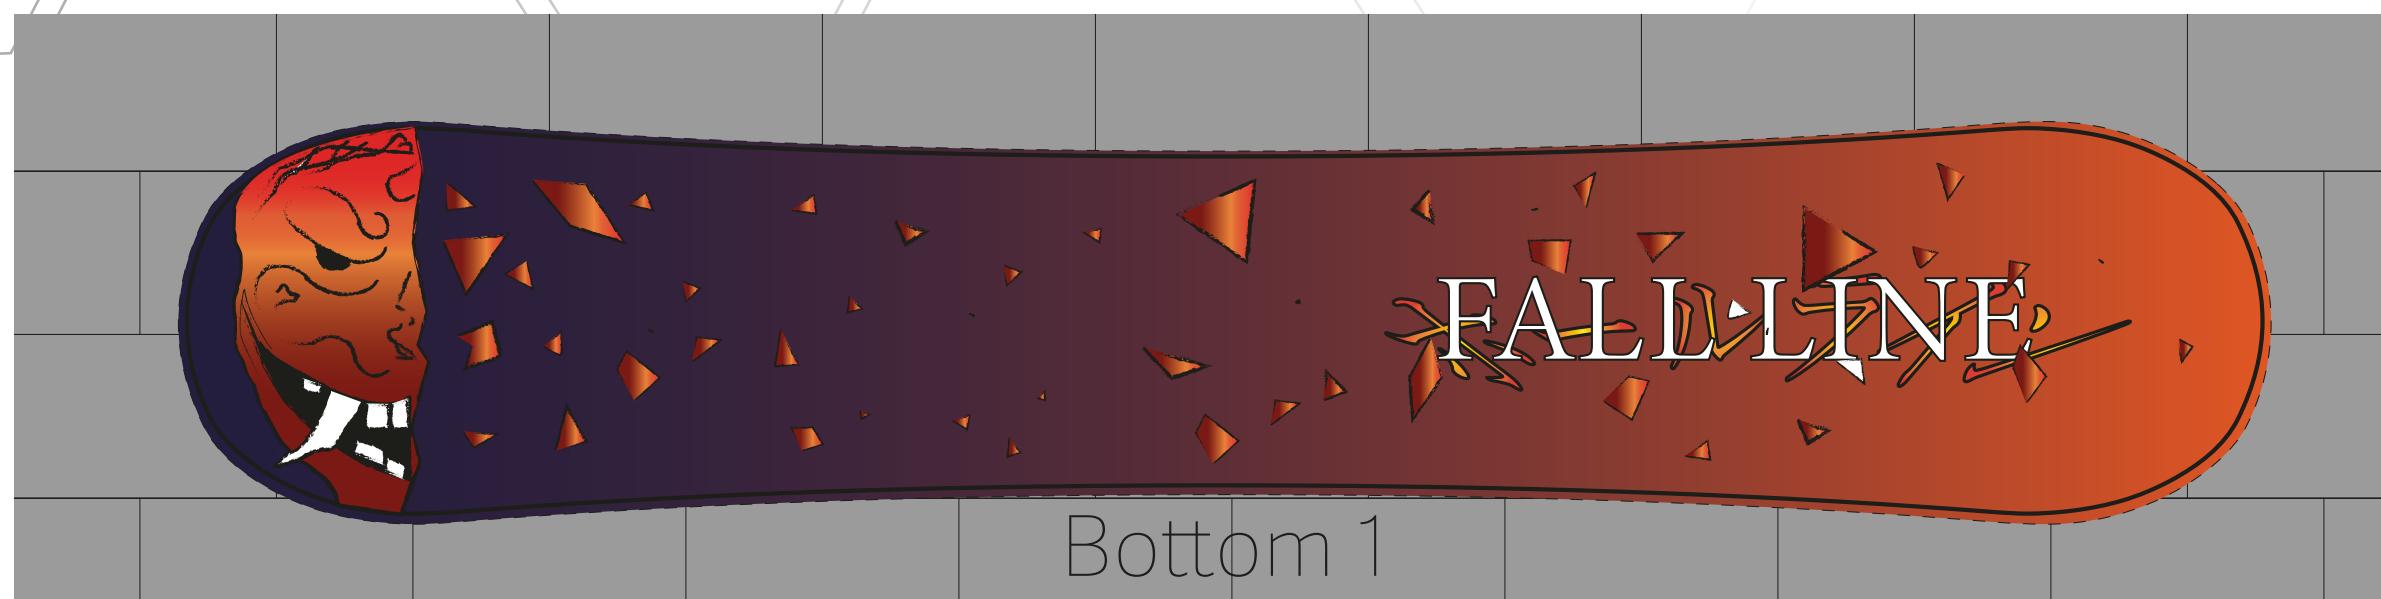

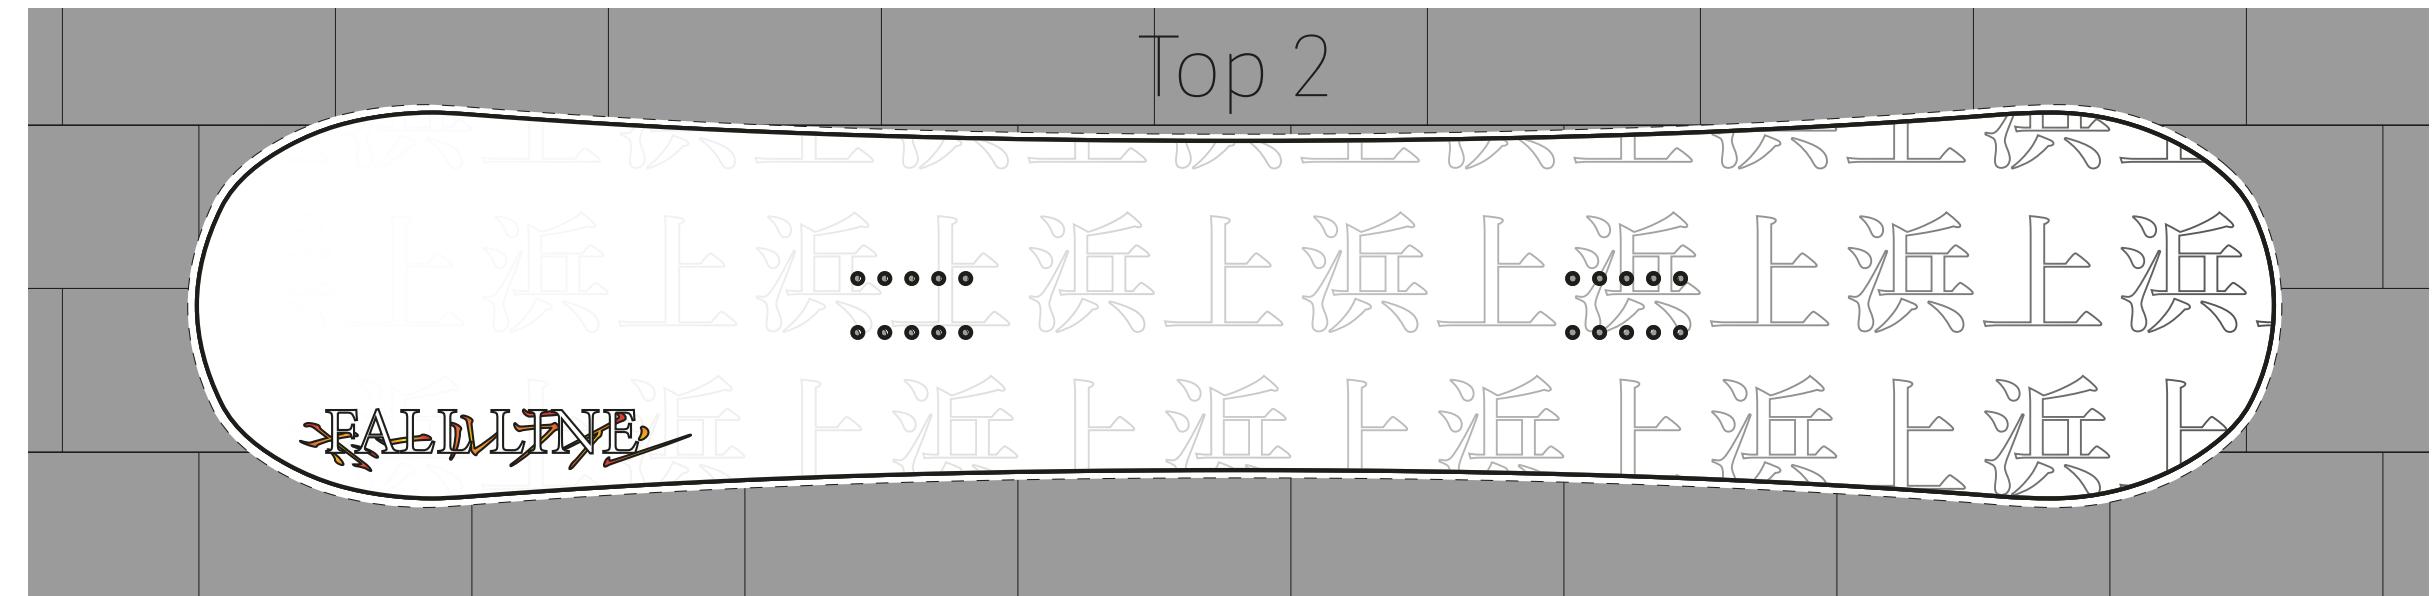

Values and Background

My name is Jordan Lin and I am a graduate of the Graphic Communications and Print Technology program at SAIT.

As a newcomer to the field, I still have much to learn but, I believe that I am well equipped to tackle the work that comes to me.

My core values ground my work in a sense of creativity and diversity. I believe that being genuine as a person and in your work is vital to success. As a new addition to your company, I would bring a great mix of being a hardworker and someone that is easy to work with. Being new in the industry may be difficult but, I am always willing to gain more knowledge and incorporate that into my work.
